Music Study club. The club's committee for music week is headed by Mrs. Lovell King, whose aids
will be Mrs. E. E. Dyball, Mrs.
James Hayden and Mrs. Dick Fitzpatrick.

Cincinnati Motor Plant Has Strike

(By Associated Press)
CINCINNATI, April 30.—Toledo's
Chrysler Motor company strike
spread to Cincinnati today with a
walkout of workers in the assembly
plant in suburban Norwood.

Workers began leaving the plant
at about 10 a. m. after leaders of the local of the United Auto Workers union presented a series of demands to Floyd J. Lynes, general manager of the Chevrolet plant.
The demands included a raise for Harry Blum, general manager
of the adjoining plant of the Fisher Body company.

The walkout followed a decision
of Toledo strikers to ask union
locals in other General Motors
plants to quit work until contracts
are signed for all.

How many the walkout here affected was not immediately known.
William H. Black, president of the local union here, claimed 1,700
members under his jurisdiction.

Gets Chain Letter

CLEVELAND, April 30.—Daniel Lutheberg had one of those chain
letters asking him to send a dime
to a stranger and receive $1,562.50
in return today, but he didn't think he would do anything about it. It was similar to the letters which have caused so much work and
worry for the mail carriers in Denver.

"I'm afraid I'll have to break the chain," said Lutheberg. "I don't want to take the responsibility of starting a deluge of mail on Cleveland post office employees."

Hollywood was puzzled to interpret the statement of Merle Oberon, British screen star, who asserted that reports of her engagement to David Niven, right, Scottish film aspirant of noble lineage, were "premature and exaggerated."

Gov. Davey May Be Asked To Turn Rug Fund Over To State

COLUMBUS, April 30.—Governor Davey may find himself balked by state law if he attempts to spend his "rug and stamp" fund, now totaling more than $1,000, for new rugs for the executive department.

Assistant State Treasurer Ray Martin called attention today to a state law which was enacted at the behest of Sen. Vic Donahey when he was state auditor, requiring all money coming into possession of state officials to be turned into the state treasury.

In accordance with the provisions of this law, Martin also called attention to the possibility that the governor may have already violated the statute by not paying the money into the treasury.

Should it develop that the governor is required to turn the money into the state treasury, it cannot be spent until it is appropriated by the legislature, thus placing the executive in the same position with respect to fulfillment of his decree for new rugs that he found himself when the senate refused to approve appropriations for that purpose.

"GAS" STATION FEUD IS FATAL

One Man Killed and Five Others Wounded In Texas Shooting

(By Associated Press)
TYLER, Tex., April 30.—A feud between rival filling station operators was blamed today for the fatal shooting of one man and the wounding of five other persons.

Three loads of buckshot were fired into a group gathered last night at a station operated by H. M. Ferguson, four miles east of here. A short time after the shooting, Jim Bryant, operator of the station across the highway, surrendered.

"One-Sided Shooting"
"I've just been in a one-sided shooting," Deputy Sheriff Ross Parker quipped him as saying, "I did all the shooting. Lock me up. I only wanted to settle matters with that young one. I'm sorry if I hit anyone else."

He did not explain his reference to the "young one." Clint Ferguson, 41, died early today. His brother, Ira Ferguson, 32, was shot in the abdomen and little hope was held for his recovery. The four other persons, including Mrs. H. M. Ferguson, 62, mother of the man killed, were less seriously injured.

"We were shot down like pigs," said Ira Ferguson as he was placed on the operating table in a hospital here.

Sheriff Tom Sikes said witnesses to the shooting told him that members of the Ferguson family had been blamed by Bryant for the dynamiting of his station about a year ago.

Blood Poisoning Case Is Settled

TIFFIN, April 30.—Settlement of the $37,000 damage suit filed by Mrs. C. Haugh, against the Fox Lumber & Supply company was announced today. The suit was settled out of court for $2,500. Mrs. Haugh charged that her husband's death was caused by blood poisoning contracted after he stepped on a rusty nail in the lumber company's yard.

CHIEF STOFFER WAS "JEALOUS", VEON CHARGES

Defense Makes Opening
Statement In N. Philadelphia Trial

ALIBI DECLARED IN THEFT TRIAL

Victor Lake, Defendant's
Son-In-Law, Withdraws
Plea of Guilty

NEW PHILADELPHIA, April 30.—Charging he was the "victim of a frameup" engineered by Chief of Police Ralph Stoffer of Salem, who he alleges, was "jealous" of his activities in the department, Homer Veon, suspended Salem patrolman, went on trial in common pleas court here today charged with complicity in the robbery of $200 worth of cheese from the Samuel Knutti dairy, near here, the night of Nov. 7, 1931.

Jury Hears Charges
A jury of nine women and three men was seated this morning and heard Veon's charges in the opening statement of Atty. A. L. Limbach, chief counsel for the defense.

Atty. Limbach told the jury that the defense will call two witnesses to give testimony that Chief Stoffer "offered bribes to two persons if they would involve Veon in the Knutti robbery."

The defense charged that it will show that in his activities, Veon "stepped on the chief's toes," and that Stoffer "objected to the advancement of Veon."

The defense declared an alibi in the statement that the suspect was in East Liverpool on the night of the robbery.

Asked by Prosecutor J. S. Hare to make the alibi more certain, the defense attorneys said that Veon was attending a conference of pottery workers and officials in East Liverpool from 7:30 to 9 p. m. on Nov. 7, 1931. Veon, the defense said, was delegated by pottery workers to exhibit a newly-designed piece of ware to determine the wage allowance on that particular product.

The defendant at the time was a pottery worker.

Lake Withdraws Plea

As the trial got under way it was announced that the plea of guilty, entered by Victor Lake of Salem, Veon's son-in-law, had been withdrawn. In all probability, court officers said, Lake will change his plea to not guilty.

Clifford Bowland and Kenneth Umstead, indicted jointly with Lake and Veon, pleaded guilty and were sentenced to the penitentiary several weeks ago.

The state indicated it may call the two as witnesses against Veon.

The state today announced it had summoned 12 witnesses, the defense said.

Ask Expansion For Hospital For Vets

WASHINGTON, April 30.—Ohio American Legion officials suggested today the proposed expansion of the veterans' hospital at Chillicothe.

As the house veterans committee opened hearings on a number of proposals for increased facilities, those attending included Paul M. Herbert of Columbus, past Ohio commander of the legion; Russell S. Cunningham of Lancaster, member of the legion's national rehabilitation committee from Ohio; Edward E. Kieffer, legion liaison officer at Cincinnati; and Charles Marton legion liaison officer at Cleveland.

Ambulance, Cars and House Figure In Unity Mishap

An ambulance, inside of which was a corpse, figured in an accident today at 10 p. m. Wednesday, also involving a truck, two other machines and a house, the state highway patrol revealed today.

S. A. Koozts of R. D. 1, Leetonia, driving a truck, rounded a curve at Unity and crashed into the rear of the ambulance, careened over a yard into two parked cars, and came to a stop against a house for which no one was hurt, however.

Clint Eaton of Beaver, Pa., was the driver of the ambulance and L. E. Klegg and J. R. Milligan, both of Unity, owned the parked cars. All machines were damaged. State Patrolman P. L. Loveland reported.

Seek Improvement Of "Roller Coaster"

LISBON, April 30.—Elkrun township trustees have again asked county commissioners to aid in the improvement of the "roller coaster" or former Lisbon-East Liverpool road, extending three and one-half miles from Spence's corners to Crawford's corners, tapping the Lincoln highway at Crawford's.

Last January a petition was filed with the county commissioners asking that the county participate in the grading and surfacing of this road, long known as being one of the most scenic rural roads in this part of the county. Commissioners will take definite action soon, and will likely list the road for improvement under the PWA county road program.

ROOSEVELT REPUDIATES STATEMENTS OF ARMY OFFICERS ON MILITARY PLANS

ASKS DELAY ON "REFORM" PLANS

C. of C. Lists Four Planks
In Recovery Platform
For U. S.

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, April 30.—A call to the Roosevelt administration to postpone "reform measures" in the interests of a speedy recovery was advocated today by Henry I. Harriman, president of the chamber of commerce of the United States.

This was the keynote of Harriman's address opening the 23rd annual convention of the chamber.

Discloses Differences
Couched in moderate but firm language, Harriman's speech disclosed vital differences from the views of the administration on several major Roosevelt plans.

Harriman who has been regarded by his associates as a counselor on friendly relations with the administration, mixed praise with his criticism.

"The new deal has attempted much that is good," he said, "but it has tried to do too much in too short a time."

C. B. Ames, chairman of the Texas company, hit at what he called "the bungling effort of Washington bureaucracy to regiment American business."

Ames, who a few months ago headed a group of 100 major business leaders in a conference on recovery, proposed that the new

T.R. JR., ATTACKS 'CAMPAIGN FUND'

Relief Cash "Out and out Attempt to Buy Votes",
He Charges

(By Associated Press)
BOSTON, April 30.—Col. Theodore Roosevelt, Jr., charged today the new $4,800,000,000 work-relief appropriation "will be used in large amounts for campaign purposes, for an out and out attempt to buy the votes of the American people."

Colonel Roosevelt, head of the National Republican club, son of the late President Theodore Roosevelt, and a distant cousin of President Franklin D. Roosevelt, made the accusation in an address prepared for delivery at a conference of New England Republican leaders.

President Chief Spender

The Democratic administration, he asserted, has used federal funds for political purposes in Iowa, North Dakota and other states.

In changing "an out and out attempt to buy the votes," Colonel Roosevelt said congress had turned the appropriation over to the President "to spend practically as he pleases."

"All of you know what was done last summer and autumn," he said, "in Maine the present Democratic governor campaigned for re-election with the statement that unless he was re-elected Maine would not continue to get the federal funds she had been receiving."

"If allowed to continue unchecked," his address said, "Roosevelt policies will crush the small property owner, the home owner, the small business man, and instead of a nation where the vast majority of the people have possessions and comfort, we will become a country where poverty is the rule."

The conference brought together party workers from the six New England states to formulate plans and policies for the 1936 campaign.

PARIS, April 30.—France, with an eye on Germany's rearmament in the air, today sought to keep her own air force at full strength by calling for the recruiting of trained aviation machine-gunners, radio operators, and mechanics to fill vacancies at the Dugny military air base attached to famous Le Bourget field.

NRA PARLEY FAILS

But senate Republicans and recovery law opponents immediately launched a new drive for a temporary extension of the act.

GET $10,000 IN JEWELS

Big "Mystery Ship" Off On Hop Across The United States

(By Associated Press)
LOS ANGELES, April 30.—The big Douglas "mystery ship" which the United States department of commerce denied permission to attempt a trans-Pacific hop to Honolulu, today took off on an attempt to break the coast-to-coast flight record for transport planes.

It's take off early today from Union airport veiled in secrecy, the big twin-motored ship, equipped with a gyro-pilot and a radio compass, was sent into the air for what its owners hoped would be a demonstration of the feasibility of its equipment over a long range route.

Leaving from Union air terminal here, pilot Timlinson planned to fly the usual TWA route originally blazed several years ago by Col. Charles A. Lindbergh, taking him over Winslow, Ariz., Albuquerque, N. M., Wichita, Kas., St. Louis, Columbus, O., Pittsburgh and into New York. The plane will be in radio contact throughout the jaunt with airports. The license under its wings is MC223V.

WORK HALTED ON GIANT DAM

Court Decision Threatens Other River Jobs Besides Parker Dam

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, April 30.—Power and reclamation dams, upon which millions have been spent by the public works administration, apparently were in a precarious position today as a result of a decision yesterday by the supreme court.

The decision was a refusal to grant the United States government an injunction prohibiting Arizona from forcibly halting or otherwise interfering with construction of Parker dam on the Colorado river.

The court held construction of Parker dam had not been authorized by law.

There was some show of jubilation on the part of members of the house rivers and harbors committee, which for a time had been stripped of its control over rivers and harbors improvements by the policy of the public works administration.

Parker dam is the smallest of these great barriers. Its estimated cost is $13,000,000. It would divert water into the $200,000,000 aqueduct of the metropolitan water district of southern California.

Last November Governor B. B. McSwain ordered out the Arizona national guard and marched 101 of them to within 18 miles of the dam site. The march was halted when work on the dam was stopped at presidential direction to avoid a threatened clash. Work was resumed several weeks ago under protection of a temporary injunction.

Within a few hours after the decision was delivered, Dr. Elwood Mead, reclamation commissioner, ordered all work stopper on Parker dam pending a series of conferences.

MYERS RUMORED AS CANDIDATE

Politicians Profess To See
Secretary As Foe of
Gov. Davey

(By Associated Press)
COLUMBUS, O., April 30.—Many Democratic and Republican leaders, large and small, today envisioned Secretary of State George S. Myers as a candidate for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination against Governor Davey, next year.

Some concluded Myers was preparing to oppose the governor after his Sidney speech a few weeks ago in which he roundly denounced the executive's bond moratorium proposal and urged governmental economy and a moratorium on the issuance of bonds.

Analyze Statements

They and many more were convinced that Myers is an actual militant candidate after analyzing his statement of last Saturday's praising the house taxation committee for promptly killing the governor's proposal for an increase of one cent in the liquid fuel tax to finance old age pensions. Myers suggested a 10 per cent cut in the state budget to meet the pension requirements.

The secretary, however, insisted today that his Sidney speech and his Saturday statement "had no political significance what-so-ever," and that he is "not thinking of politics now."

"Can't a man speak his convictions on various economic and governmental matters without being interpreted as angling for political favors?" he asked.

Close friends of Myers likewise insist he was only expressing his opinion on these two important state issues without thought of his political future. They said he was not angling for gubernatorial support and that if he does decide to seek again political preference, it probably will be for re-election as secretary of state. Myers is serving his second term.

"Last Leg" Gone

"Governor Davey has destroyed the last leg—economy—on which the Democrat party can with dependence hope for victory next year, unless the popularity of President Roosevelt is sufficient again to turn the state into the Democratic ranks," declared a Democratic state senator unfriendly to Governor Davey.

"It will take a candidate who, like Governor Donahey, has established a reputation for economy to re-establish that faith in the voters for the Democrat party, and Secretary Myers is fast building that reputation," the senator said.

GREAT BRITAIN, FRANCE NAMED

Hits Declaration of Seizure of Islands In
"Emergency"

SENDS SHARP NOTE TO CONGRESS UNIT

Says U. S. Doesn't Envisage Any Change In Relationships

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, April 30.—Testimony by army officials that the United States in an "emergency" "must be prepared to seize" British and French islands near American shores was repudiated today by President Roosevelt in a sharply worded message to the house military committee.

In action believed unprecedented, the chief executive told Chairman McSwain that the committee must cease printing evidence given in executive session or he, as commander in chief of the army and navy, will require that none be given hereafter unless he had previously approved it.

Still Friendly

"This government," he asserted, "does not in any of its plans or policies envisage a possibility of a change in the friendly relationship between the United States and any foreign country."

The President referred to testimony before the committee by Brigadier General Charles E. Kilbourne, until recently assistant chief of staff in charge of war plans, and Brigadier General F. M. Andrews, head of the new general headquarters army aviation center.

The printed transcript of a secret session of the military committee disclosed the testimony was given in supporting the Wilcox air base bill to create half a dozen strategic army aviation centers.

Andrews testified that "even with Canada neutral, the enemy has thousands of bases available." Ne-Foundland, St. Pierre and Miquel, French islands near New Foundland; Bermuda, the Bahamas, Guiana, Trinidad, British Honduras, and the Lesser Antilles.

If the situation is sufficiently vital to require it, we must be prepared to seize these outlying bases to prevent their development by the enemy as bases of operation against us," Andrews said.

Testifies of Air Base

Kilbourne testified a "camouflaged" provision for a powerful air base near the Canadian border had been written into the bill.

He said he would be glad to include the Great Lakes area in the measure, which designates six other strategic areas for consideration in creating defensive aviation centers.

"But," he added, "I could not put it in the bill because of the Canadian situation."

"You will notice No. 7 in my bill is camouflaged. It is called 'intermediate' stations for transcontinental flights but it means the same thing."

The Wilcox bill originally proposed a base in the Great Lakes region, but it was eliminated after the officer said:

"We would like to put one close to the Great Lakes but we must avoid going too far in establishing new military stations close to the northern border and limit ourselves to those essential in peace-time training operations."

"We do not want to accentuate anything that would look as though we contemplated passing away from the century-old principle that our Canadian border needs no defense. I think it would be very unfortunate if we did."

Kilbourne, since he gave his testimony, has been transferred to duty in Manila.

New Accommodations Planned At Lima

LIMA, April 30.—Plans for a $150,000 expansion of the Lima State hospital for the criminal insane had the support of Mrs. Margaret Aliman, state welfare director, today. A new section would provide quarters for 150 patients.

Mussolini's Plan

BEVERLY HILLS, Cal., April 30.—The President made a very encouraging and hopeful speech. On the same day Mussolini spoke to his people.

It's interesting to compare the two speeches, not so much on account of the two men, but on account of difference in temperament of the two races.

Mussolini said, "You have many lean years ahead, you must sacrifice, and bear it." Now nobody could make that speech to us. We don't want to be told we must "sacrifice, and that we might have lean years coming."

But Mussolini's plan is the best. If he brings his people any little benefits they are tickled to death, but if we don't receive every benefit we are holering.

CLEAN-UP WEEK

Mayor Norman Phillips recently announced plans for the city's spring clean-up week.The collection of refuse, aside from garbage and rubbish, will be resumed by the city after a suspension
of one year and it behooves every resident to cooperate in the movement.Most folks are busy this week, gathering up the winter's accumulation of rubbish, cleaning out the nooks and corners, in preparation for the arrival of the city's trucks.The men and their trucks will endeavor to cover
the city Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of next week. Residents are asked to place their refuse in containers of some type that may be handled quickly
in order to expedite the canvass.Everyone should be quick to avail himself of the service the city is offering during the cleanup. It won't hurt a bit to give the premises a good scouring.

TO CONTROL AUTOMOBILE DRIVERS

Automobiles have led law in a merry chase, but law is catching up. Gradually, the problems of the age of transportation are being brought under control.One of the problems is the control of automobile drivers, by which is meant the state's right to determine who shall and shall not operate a vehicle.
Another is the state's right to make drivers financially responsible for damages.Specific laws are needed for these specific problems. Experience challenges the original supposition that the right to operate an automobile should be extended to every person. A frightening toll of fatalities and property damage is evidence something needs to be done.Various states have experimented with license and financial responsibility laws, not always successfully.
Ohio has watched these experiments and now, apparently, is going to participate in them.A drivers' license bill has been passed by both houses of the legislature. Also, a financial responsibility bill awaits only concurrence on amendments
before becoming a law. Both bills are in a sense compromise measures, but they commit the state
definitely to a policy of control over automobile drivers. Once in force, their provisions probably would tend to be applied with increasing rigidity.The license bill requires examinations for new drivers and evidence of satisfactory operation during the period of a year for existing drivers. Persons physically or mentally incompetent will be barred from obtaining licenses.Licenses are subject to revocation for certain prescribed offenses, and they are subject, also, to temporary suspension. The financial responsibility
bill, which provides that when a judgment is obtained against a motorist it must be paid or proof
of future responsibility furnished, either by bond or liability insurance, is made enforceable by the provisions of the license bill.Careful, capable drivers have nothing to fear from the enactment of the license bill. Automobile owners and operators financially capable of assuming responsibility for their vehicles and for their own actions
at the wheel have nothing to fear from the liability
bill. Both are moderate measures. Undoubtedly,
they are something less than perfect in theory and,
if passed, they probably will be found faulty in some respects. They are founded, however, on a firm conviction among most automobile drivers that the hazards of operation demand something more substantial than a supposition that nothing will happen
and that if it does happen the person at fault will be able to offer something more than an apology.

NEW POSSIBILITIES

Nations have drawn lines on the ground and dared their enemies to cross them. They have for-bidden enemies to trespass on certain bodies of water.
Now they are staking out forbidden areas in the air.France, nervously jealous of the secrets of its
frontier fortifications, has warned Germany not to fly over certain forbidden zones. The French charge
four illegal flights over their fortifications recently
make action necessary.German planes, if discovered over French territory, will be warned by a blank shell from an anti-aircraft
gun first. If the planes do not turn back immediately, French combat ships will take to the air and force
down the presumed enemy.Thus are opened new possibilities of effrontery and challenge. The border incident which has been the excuse of so many wars may take place in the air when the next war breaks out. In crowded Europe, furthermore, an air attack might be staged
and completed before more than a handful of citizens were aware of the border incident, itself, had occurred.The airplane is primarily an attacking weapon. Defense against it necessarily consists in the power to use it against the enemy in his own territory, not
in its limited usefulness as a defensive weapon.
Europe's accumulation of vast fleets of aircraft does not harmonize with its creed of national defense.If it is true, as reported, that there is a Doctor of Philosophy running an elevator in Louisville, perhaps he is to be congratulated. Not every Doctor of Philosophy is competent to run an elevator—Louisville Courier-Journal.

NEW YORK DAY BY DAY

NEW YORK, April 30.—The metropolitan hotel is better known these days by its band leader than by the fame of its Mine Host. With few exceptions, such as Boomer of the Waldorf and Case of the Algonquin,
directing heads of the great inns are cloaked in obscure. Only the trade knows.So inaccessible are some directors that even old established guests never see them. They rule with rows of push-buttons and inter-office telephones behind batteries of private secretaries. They come like great industrialists to factories from their country
home daily.Most of the major hotels have grown entirely too large for personal contact. This pleasantry is divided among the various hostesses and floor clerks. The hotel chief as typified by Simeon Ford and later George Boldt and John McE. Bosman with wide acquaintance is no more.This change has resulted in a regimentation
wherein the guest is known almost wholly by number.
But whatever warmth it lacks is made up in such
purely personal comforts as the radio, free newspapers, servitor and other modern mechanical services unknown in other days.Gertrude Stein may remain permanently in the America she has not known for 32 years or at least until the storm over her last book in Paris blows over.
The autobiography of her secretary, which she penned,
resulted in a pooling of resentment that might make Paris a bit uncomfortable. Matinee, the great painter, is in a fury. So is Tzara, who daddied Dadaism. And Joias, publisher of Transition. They claim Gertrude has been talking through her funny-shaped hat.Rube Goldberg, who used to back, fill and reddent
to the ears when called on to speak, has become one of the sharp tongued toast-masters. It is a banquet can land Rube for the introductions. It is a wow. His method is deflationary. He starts them off in a whirlwind of praise and when they have finished
makes a dry remark that makes them wish they had only taken a quick bow.In the same fashion, Tallulah Bankhead is a super-magnet for the cocktail round-up. If a host or hostess can promise Tallulah will romp in, the party is away to a flying start. She has no particular flair
for repartee. But is likely to offer something bizarre in costumeing and tell at least one story that is a honey. But more than anything else she epitomizes
the metropolitan notion of "glamour." She weaves the same exotic spell in London, too.Bob Ripley is another of the cartoon clan who has stepped out and gone places as a public speaker. Not many years ago he was a mumbler with a slight impediment. Excited, he was scarcely understandable.
But he changed that by studying diction and elocution.
Today he has the ease and charm of a Francis Patrick Murphy. And always something to say. His recent radio speech about starvation in Russia was so direct and incontrovertible that Madison Square
gnashed its teeth for days.The bright red Broadway, surface cars, tidest of all, are the only ones to be filled and exploit that harried stand-by of cartoonists—the strap hanger.
And the express is only noticeable during morning and night rush hours. More than any other group the Broadway surface passengers are symbolic of a great
city's eagerness, perplexity and turmoil. Mostly workers off side streets of Broadway who live in upper Broadway apartments. Their world is always Broadway. The men are forever twisting necks in tight
collars, dehydrating perspiring brows or twisting key chains on a finger end. They cannot relax. Mouths are in a thin straight line. So systematized is their lives, that those reading newspapers never look up.
But they never go by their streets. Tom Powers,
Webster and other delineators of middle class hum-
drummies have found much material among them.

THE STARS SAY

For Wednesday, May 1

The astrological forecast for this day is not an entirely optimistic one for business developments, although the inclinations will be toward activity and possibly the making of new contracts.If It Is Your Birthday
Those whose birthday it is may not encounter a year of affairs of great magnitude, although new contracts or arrangements may be gained, largely through the element of friendship. The private affairs may largely engage the attention.A child born on this day may be versatile, clever,
enterprising and ambitious, with its personal popularity and friendliness proving an asset in business
and in private life.

A Review of the Day's News

By Arthur Brisbane

MIAMI, Fla.

PUBLISHERS that understand
good publishing will congratulate
"GOOD HOUSEKEEPING" on the May number celebrating its golden,
fiftieth year, anniversary.The approximately gorgeous cover
of pure gold, the innocent little girl
making her bow, the poem "To My Mother," that begins the magazine,
a philosophical article by Sinclair Lewis on the past fifty years, most eventful since man achieved spiritual freedom. Mrs. Calvin Coolidge's
interesting article about her husband, "the real Calvin Coolidge,"
will interest every intelligent person.What interests President Roosevelt, who likes signs of prosperity,
and all American publishers, from Colonel Shuts, who publishes this column in his Miami Herald, all the way northwest to the publisher of the Seattle Post-Intelligencer, is
the fact that "GOOD HOUSEKEEP-ING" for May, carries more than
one million dollars in advertising
and could carry much more if it would accept advertising that it rejects. Wise rejection by the business office and wise selection by the editorial department, plus a consistent policy through fifty years, is
the secret of one great publishing
success.THE FIRST edition of "GOOD HOUSEKEEPING," issued fifty years
ago, carried this line:
"Conducted in the interest of
the higher life of the household."The magazine has lived up to that motto, and its circulation now is above two million, three hundred thousand. "GOOD HOUSEKEEP-ING" is one of W. R. Hearst's magazines.NATIONS RISE to great heights,
glorious power, then crumble, disappear, desert sands cover their streets and temples. Patient archeology digs them out and wonders.
Read Volney's "Ruins of Empires"
to find that process well described.
What causes it? Do nations grow
old and die "naturally," inevitably
as individuals do? Sometimes plagues
wipe them out, the black death
nearly destroyed Europe. Malaria
tore down the power of Rome and
recently killed some fifty thousand,
fostering a sudden mosquito attack
in the Far East.OUR SAND STORMS, recurring in
the west with increased violence,
indicate one danger to national life.
You read of fertile fields buried in
sand, many dead of pneumonia
caused by dust entering the lungs,
the mortality from all diseases in
the dust area increased by 35 per cent.The two most fertile spots on the earth, cradles of the earliest permanent civilization, Egypt and Mesopotamia, fed and irrigated by great rivers, are dismal places now, with sand covering great tracts that once
were "fertile Egypt" and "glorious Mesopotamia," but a memory. Sand storms, dust storms and erosion have helped destroy. Unwise cultivation or lack of it helped more. Unwise cultivation in the west, aggravated
by drought, may account, in part,
for dust storms. These storms are abnormal. Had they been normal areas afflicted would long since have disappeared under blankets of dust
and sand and turned to desert.GREAT BRITAIN
CALLS PARLEYTo Confer With France,
Italy On Germany's
Naval ProgramLONDON, April 30.—Leading cabinet members today began an informal study of the question of Germany's return to the construction of submarines and arranged
for immediate consultation with France and Italy as new secrets of the German naval program were learned.Reports reached informed quarters here from Berlin said that Germany was planning the immediate expansion of her fleet with
the initial construction of:
Five to eight battleships of 35,000
tons;
Six battle cruisers;
Twenty-five to forty large and
small cruisers;
Fifty to seventy-five destroyers;
Forty to fifty small submarines;
Several aircraft-carriers.Particulars Are Vague
It was said in these quarters that Reichsminister Hitler's program was somewhat vague in many particulars because he had made it clear that Germany was not committing
herself definitely pending the exchange of views during the scheduled Anglo-German technical naval conversations. A source in close touch with the situation said the British cabinet was expected to order the conversations to proceed
as planned.The entire situation will be thoroughly aired at meetings today
and tomorrow of the various ministers concerned with foreign affairs and defense and their observations will be communicated to France and Italy.British naval officials will discuss the German plan with Francois Marine, who left Paris for London
today and, despite denials, it is known that he will review that German development with British admiralty officials.Britain, Too, Would Build
One strong group within the conservative party today urged that the government make use of the
"escalator clause" of the London
naval treaty. (Article 21 of the treaty.) Such action, it was said,
would permit Great Britain to build more submarines and other small craft. This treaty automatically expires at the end of 1936.
At the same time that Japan's denunciation of the Washington
treaty of 1922 takes effect.Diplomatic circles here said they believed Great Britain, France, and Italy may submit recommendations
at the next meeting of the League
of Nations council for methods of dealing with land, sea, and air
armaments, but the British are keeping silent on the subject, until the cabinet decides on a policy.The ministers will seek French
and Italian opinion and it was said
they hoped to have a definite policy
determined before Thursday's debate on foreign affairs in the house
of commons.

HEALTH

By Dr. Royal S. Copeland
New York CityRest Overcome Fatigue
MANY PERSONS seek medical aid because they find themselves
tired all the time, lacking in "pep."
They run to the doctor, forgettingthat this complaint is usually
the result of failure to obtain sufficient rest and
relaxation.In most instances chronic
fatigue is not the
result of any organic disturbance, although it
is often traced to
some physical defect. Strangely
enough, the victim may be unaware of his
shortcomings and constantly subjects his body and brain to excessive strain. The careless man may be able to survive his foolish
practices for a time, but sooner
or later it becomes impossible to carry the burden.Body a Machine
I have often compared the human body to a machine. With one exception, it is a good comparison.
When certain parts of a machine
break down they can be replaced.
But this cannot be done with the human machine. But it is always possible for the sensible person to reduce the wear and tear and by so doing prevent permanent damage.Every last person on earth should bear in mind that adequate hours
of rest and relaxation just must be obtained. Without sufficient rest the body is unable to recuper-
ate for tomorrow's work and to regain the strength and energy he must use during that day. He must not forget that rest is as important as food.The individual who gives himself
less than his required hours of sleep and rest becomes impatient,
cross and easily provoked. He does his duties under the whip, so to speak. Sooner or later he suffers from digestive upset and intestinal disturbance. As a result of all this
there is loss of appetite and ultimately impaired health.May Be Danger Signal
To be honestly tired is one thing; to suffer prolonged and abnormal fatigue is quite another. If
in spite of what should be sufficient sleep and relaxation this
symptom continues, it is a danger
signal and should be thoroughly investigated. It should arouse suspicion that something is wrong
with heart, lungs, kidney or some other vital organ. I would advise every one of my readers who complains of this symptom to take stock. Find out now, when a few simple rules will give relief, what needs to be done.Chronic fatigue in a child or young adult must never be ignored.
In a few instances it may be due to some serious organic disorder, such
as valvular heart disease, kidney
or lung trouble.In other instances, odd as it may seem, the symptoms may be due to
something as simple as flat feet.
Incorrect posture, from this cause,
or from the wearing of faulty footwear, is often the underlying cause
for obstinate fatigue in children
and adults.Answers to Health Queries

"The Cold Finger Curse"

by EDWIN DIAL TORGERSON

SYNOPSIS

During a party at her home, wealthy Mrs. Violet Elderbank is murdered and her jewels stolen. Among the guests were June and Jimmy Kirkman, her neighbors, and their tenants, St. Gregory Valcour, pseudo artist, Glenn Thurber, a newspaper reporter, and dignified Douglas W. Courtney, a statistician. Marjorie Clark, a specialist dancer, is also present. The crime occurred while the house was in darkness and drums were beating for Roger's Zulu dance. Violet had been summoned to a private telephone in her bedroom. Her maid, Elsie, found her chloroformed and gagged. About that time Price Merriam, secretary and companion, who operated the lights for Roger's dance, had difficulty in turning them on after having seen them out for Roger's entrance. Thurber disappeared during the performance to make a telephone call next door. Thurber had gone there to get one of his paintings for Violet. Elsie the maid claims she was busy in the kitchen when the telephone rang, but when Merriam and Cupples, the other state she was not there, according to Cupples the call was from the telephone office stating it had a message from Montreal for Mrs. Elderbank. A checkup reveals there was no such call but that Glenn Thurber telephoned at 12:21. Thurber emphatically denies this, as he is about to let Darden into his room. Thurber discovers his key is missing.

CHAPTER XIV

"I remember now. I gave the key to Mrs. Kirkman downstairs. She has to have some way of getting the maid in to clean the apartment."

"Oh, yes?" scoffed Darden. "You are in there and get whatever you want to take to jail with you. I'm giving you a ride to headquarters. He addressed one of the men in uniform. 'Take this man Thurber. The charge is murder.'"

"But say—your breath," urged the sergeant. "You'll need it. You've got a lot of talking to do in the next twenty-four hours."

"May I use my own telephone?"

"Yes, but make it snappy."

Darden turned to Captain Nobley as the dazed newspaper man unlocked his door and entered the apartment.

"What's the new lead you've found for me, Captain?" inquired Darden.

Nobley snapped off his flashlight and put his magnifying glass in his pocket.

"I think we'd better step back next door so I can show you just what I mean," said the expert.

"There are lots of queer prints over various things in the unfortunate lady's boudoir, some of them merely smudges. But there's one thing you can be absolutely certain of."

"What's that?"

"This man Glenn Thurber you brought up to me a while ago was in the lady's bedroom, all right. I found his finger-prints, plain as the nose on your face."

"Where?" queried Darden, visibly elated.

In the downstairs hallway—

"Mrs. Elderbank's home they tell Price Merriam. He was nervous and excited."

"I've just had Montreal on the phone," he sputtered. "The old gentleman was terribly upset. He kept saying, 'I knew it would happen. I knew it would happen!' But he's game to the core. He is coming down at once—leaving tonight in a special train. And he's bringing a detective with him."

"A detective?" grunted Darden.

"Yes, a Captain Montigny, of the Montreal detective bureau—at least he said he would bring Montigny if he could get the Inspector's permission. He says the Montreal police know something about the case, as a matter of fact."

"Oh, all right," said Darden. "The more the merrier. I've heard of Montigny. He's a good man. But I think before he gets here we'll have a man in jail who killed this woman."

"I hope so!" murmured Merriam. "Recently as Darden and Captain Nobley hurried up the stairs."

A policeman had been left on guard in Violet Elderbank's bedroom, where the body still lay awaiting removal.

Captain Nobley had severed the telephone cord, but the disconnected instrument stood undisturbed on its table.

There are finger-prints all over the room, declared Nobley, pointing out the spots where the marks had been developed. "Mrs. Elderbank's record is pretty clear in a number of places, but the clearest of all

The artist from Two-Sixty-Eight Waverly Place seemed gazed and uncertain of himself.

"Where were you?" began Sergeant Darden curtly. "When this murder was committed?"

"Why, I must have been next door," replied Valcour, his small eyes shifting warily. "I had been there some time, selecting some paintings to show Mrs. Elderbank—brushing them off and getting them to look nice, you know."

"Did you get them?"

"Yes, sir, some of them. The best ones, though, were locked up in a friend's apartment and I had forgotten it. Those are the ones I brought over." He indicated a stack of six or eight small paintings on the floor facing the wall. "Mrs. Elderbank told me to leave them here."

"What time did you go next door?"

"Why, I don't recall, exactly. A little after twelve, I think it was."

"In what part of the house do you live, next door?"

"Ground floor, that is, the—er, basement."

"Front basement?"

"Yes, sir, I have the whole floor."

"While you were there did you see anyone leave this house and go into that one?"

"Yes, sir, I did. I saw Mr. Thurber."

"He went in that house, did he?"

"Yes, sir."

"Did he go on up to his apartment?"

"I suppose he did, yes, sir. I didn't see him come out again. Of course I might not have been near the window then."

"Did you hear him stop on the floor above you and use the public telephone in the hall?"

"No, sir, I didn't hear him."

"Could you have heard him?"

Valcour was uneasy. "Why, I think so, yes, sir. The phone is right near the back stairs leading down to the basement."

"How long were you in the basement, picking out pictures?"

"Why, I couldn't say, sir, definitely. Perhaps fifteen or twenty minutes. I went upstairs to my friend's apartment—he was the one who had the paintings I mentioned."

"What friend?"

"Why, Mr. Courtney. He lives on the second floor next door. I had left them in his apartment so he could see them, and also any of his friends who might drop in. But his door was locked and he was here at the party, so I didn't bother him."

"Hm! At what time did you come back to this house with your paintings?"

"Why, it must have been between a quarter to one and one o'clock, from what I have heard."

"From what you've heard? What do you mean?"

"I mean I heard somebody say it was about that time the colored maid found Mrs. Elderbank's body—and I saw her come running down the steps, screaming, to the library floor, just as I went up after leaving these paintings in here. Of course, I had been in here perhaps ten minutes, arranging these pictures in the order I wanted Mrs. Elderbank to see them in—a lot depends on first impressions, you know."

"So I've heard."

Taking the Mystery out of Banking

No air of mystery hangs over the way we do business in this bank. While we admittedly do follow very strict rules in the handling of many transactions, there are good reasons for these rules, and our officers take especial pains to see that these reasons are explained and understood.

As a result, we find that our depositors and those who have occasion to borrow money, are ready and willing to work in friendly harmony with us. We say "yes" to borrowers as frequently as conditions permit. But, when we do have to say "No," we do not lose a friend.

There is no mystery in banking at this bank.

troveries between cotton manufacturers of the region and the administration, as a typical illustration of the effect of the administration's economic policies. Colonel Roosevelt declared the administration has "deliberately shackled the industry and blocked its chance of recovery."

Assailing what he termed "a large brood of strange and obnoxious policies born of the unholy wedding that has taken place between pink professors and ward politicians under the present national administration," he asserted: "The high standard of living in this country 'is rapidly being destroyed by the so-called new deal.'"

The national administration is "robbing America to benefit foreign countries."

The cost of living has been increased 15 per cent. In the 26 months of the processing tax, he said the amount due the government on cotton put in process amounted to $135,000,000 or about 40 per cent of the amount paid in wages. American industry has already lost two-thirds of its overseas trade in cotton textiles, mostly to Japan, he said.

"Japan now is attacking us in our home market and Washington is sitting supine. Indeed, both the President and Secretary—Wallace have said in effect that they have no menace and that everything was all right."

SPORTS Chatter

Glancing back over the weekend in sports:

Havre De Grace—Stand Pat sets new record for stake in winning Philadelphia handicap.

Baltimore—Hesperus 2nd captures Maryland Hunt club steeplechase; Troublemaker killed.

Track

Des Moines, Ia.—Owens wins 100-yard dash in 9.5 at Drake relays; Cunningham defeats Dawson in three-quarter mile test.

Philadelphia—Peacock wins broad jump and 100-meter dash in Penn relays; discuss and hammer throw to Anton Kishon.

Santa Barbara, Calif.—Graber better world record for pole vault, clearing 14 feet 5 1/2 inches.

Rowing

Cambridge, Mass.—Princeton conquers Harvard and Massachusetts Tech in Compton cup race.

Annapolis, Md.—Navy sweeps four race regatta with Cornell.

Golf

Houston—Babe Didrikson wins Texas Women's association title, beating Mrs. Dan Chandler, 2 up, in 36-hole final.

Athens, Ga.—Paul Leslie, Louisville State, defeats Fred Haas, team mate, 1 up, for southern intercollegiate crown.

Tennis

Ojai, Calif.—Shield whips Makoto, 7-5, 6-4, for Ojai valley tournament title.

White Sulphur Springs, W. Va.—Allison takes Mason and Dixon crown, beating Hall, 9-7, 6-3, 6-0.

Three successive victories and no defeats have given Marshall college a toe-hold in the Buckeye conference baseball race. Only one team has a similar spottless record. It is Ohio university which, however, has only one victory to its credit. Ohio Wesleyan is next in line with a win and a defeat in two games, while Cincinnati and Miami are tied for last place with two defeats each.

Last Stand

ONE OF THE grandest little fighting men of this or any other era will be making his last stand when Tony Canzoneri clambers through the ropes to do battle with the brilliant Lou Ambers in their lightweight championship battle. Canzoneri has been fighting for a good many years, and it can never be said of him that he didn't give the customers a run for their dough. That is why he is still the best drawing card among the lightweights, even though he is now in the fast-fading twilight of his flat career.

Scars of Battle
Tony has been through many a tough fight and has taken his share of punishment, never having been a "hit and run" fighter. His once cherubic map is now well-flattened and seamed with scars of battle, but Canzoneri has nothing to regret in making boxing his career. The veteran Italian puncher has earned about a half million dollars during his years of knuckle knocking, and being a smart young man he hasn't let it all slip through his fingers, as usually happens in such cases.

RANDOM NOTES—The wrestling show at Central auditorium in Youngstown Thursday night features a bout between George Craig, Tulsa, Okla., and Frank Wolf, New York mat artist. The leading pitchers in the National league to date are Cy Blanton, Pirates; Derringer, Reds; and Warnerke, Cubs. In the American league it's Hadley of the Senators and Whitehead of the White Sox.

I. A. C. Preparing For Opening Game

At the risk of chilblains and frost-bitten fingers, the I. A. C. baseball squad expects to turn in a few practice sessions this week in preparation for its opening game of the season Sunday at Bliss field. The I. A. C. is scheduled to take on the Westville Lakers in an afternoon tilt.

Sebring Grocers In County Ball Loop

SEBRING, April 30.—Sebring will have a club in the newly organized Columbiana County Baseball league. The Mitchell-Grocers will represent Sebring in the circuit.

At Wilmington, Del.—Alphonse Blagnano, 215, Des Moines, defeated Joe Dusek, 218, Omaha, two falls to one.

Fists Fly As Chicago Cubs And Pittsburgh Pirates Develop A "Riot"

Guy Bush Plays Lead Role In Fisticuffing During Game Monday

Fireworks Start When Harry Lavagetto, Buc Infielder, Slides Into Bill Jurgens' Spikes at Second Base

By HERBERT W. BARKER, Associated Press Sports Writer
Shorter baseball tempers, coinciding with rising mercury in the thermometers, can be credited with an assist on the major leagues' first full-grown "riot" of the year.

The wildest game of the young season, the Chicago Cubs' 12-11 victory over the Pittsburgh Pirates, provided the setting for yesterday's donnybrook in which "Mississippi Guy" a former Cub, played the leading fisticuffing role.

The trouble started in the fifth inning when Harry Lavagetto, young pirate infielder, doubled to score Manager Pie Traynor with the run that gave the Corsairs a 6-2 lead. As Lavagetto slid into second, he got himself tangled up in Bill Jurgens' spikes. He leaped to his feet with fists flying.

That brought on a small-sized battle royal. Players from both teams surged onto the playing field. In the forefront was Bush, now wearing a pirate uniform. After a short verbal exchange with Roy Joiner, Cub pitcher, Bush rushed his man and floored him with a couple of rights. Joiner wound up with a bloody nose and a six-inch scratch on the left side of his jaw.

They started leading Bush away from there when Manager Charley Grimm of the Cubs decided to take a hand but before any further damage could be done, the umpires and cooler-headed players stepped between the prospective battlers and the fight was over. Jurgens, Joiner, Lavagetto and Bush all were banished.

All this apparently aroused the Cubs from their lethargy for in the eighth they sent 14 men to bat against Waite Hoyt, Johnny Salvo and Bill Swift and scored ten runs for a 12-9 lead. The Pirates came back with two runs in the ninth but Traynor fanned with the tying and winning runs on base to end the game. The contest, marked by six home runs and a parade of ten pitchers, lasted two hours and 41 minutes.

Dean Stops Reds
The National league program otherwise was quiet with Paul Dean

(By Associated Press)
NEW YORK, April 30.—Ford C. Frick, president of the National league, today fined and suspended Bill Jurgens, Chicago Cub shortstop, and Guy Bush, Pittsburgh Pirate pitcher, for their part in the fist fight that marked yesterday's Cub-Pirate game at Chicago.

pitching six-hit ball to give the St. Louis Cardinals a 7-2 victory over the Cincinnati Reds and the Boston Braves handing the Phillies their eighth successive defeat, 7-5.

A three-game American league program was marked by two shutouts with Vernon (Lefty) Gomez of the New York Yankees and Tommy Bridges of the champion Detroit Tigers in the starring roles.

Bridges kept seven hits well spaced as Detroit, showing rather convincing evidence of a return to last year's form, hammered out an 18-9 triumph.

Gomez held the Washington Senators for four hits as the Yankees won, 2-0. The Philadelphia Athletics' tenth defeat in 12 starts was a 10-8 beating by the Boston Red Sox, in 11 innings. Bing Miller, a pinch hitter, drove in the winning runs with a single with the bases loaded in the 11th.

Big Bill Tilden Says He Will Play At Tennis Game Until 'He Weakens'

(By International News Service)
LOS ANGELES, April 30.—William T. Tilden, II, has no thought of retiring from professional tennis. "Bill, give us a headline," said the interviewer to Tilden who was here on a professional tennis tour of the United States. "Let's say something like this—I'll quit at 70."

"Nerts," replied Mr. Tilden, of the culturally well known Philadelphia Tildens. "I'll quit when I begin to weaken. But right now, despite my feeble intellect and advancing years I believe that I could defeat Fred Perry, who won the world's amateur tennis crown."

Hagen Not Yet Ready To Cast Aside His Clubs

Veteran Golfer Practices For Tricky Oakmont, Pa., Course

By EARL J. HILLIGAN
Associated Press Staff Writer
DETROIT, April 30.—Walter Hagen, admitting that "youth must be served—eventually," isn't willing to do any of the serving just yet, he said optimistically today as he began a training for the National Open golf championships this June at Oakmont, Pa.

"The Haig," holder of about 50 championships in 23 years of links competition, sees a chance for one of the "old guard" to win the open crown because of the "trickiness" of Oakmont's traps and general layout.

Development Counts

"It remains to be seen whether the younger stars in the game today have built their games around one certain course or have developed games good enough for any course, and particularly one as tricky as Oakmont," Hagen said.

Hagen believes that Henry Picard and Ky Laffoon are the two most improved players in the younger crop of stars' now in the professional field.

Hagen is hoping hot weather will visit Detroit soon. Admitting the long winter "gold trail" tour left him somewhat tired, he said he believed warm weather, and daily rounds, would put him back in shape. He intends to play a number of courses here, get plenty of fresh air and rest and concentrate on his game in the hope of qualifying for the open event. It will be the first time "ears," he said, that he has had to qualify instead of being automatically eligible.

Hagen, all previous reports to the contrary, isn't planning to retire from competitive golf for a while yet. "I want to win another championship before I pass out of the picture," he says.

Salem Chinas To Have Practices

The Potters' management also announced that no releases will be granted to players who fail to report for practice sessions.

The following players, as well as any other who may desire to try out, are asked to report for the workouts.

Frank Sutter, Joe Kasso, Carl McQuiklin, Kenneth Woods, Eddie Pukalski, Dick Scullion, Myron Annibella, Floyd McQuiklin, Risty Krepps, Richard Reedy, Castle Krepps, "Mutt" Roessler, Bruce Arnold, Paul Scullion, Frank Thiersult and Coach C. O. Rutter.

Derby Followers Get Preview Of Classic At Churchill Downs

Ten Eligibles for Next Saturday's Race Seek $15,000 Purse at Louisville, Ky., Today; Chance Sun n Slipping

(By Associated Press)
LOUISVILLE, Ky., April 30.—The Kentucky Derby, in part, will be offered as a preview at the Churchill Downs today. Ten eligibles for the classic will run for $15,000 in the preparation purse, a mile and a sixteenth event.

Railbirds will watch with uncommon interest as it is apt to be the last chance to see most of the prospects in competition before probably 19 colts and geldings and one filly go to the post Saturday.

Joseph E. Widener's Chance Sun will draw special note. Favorite for months in the winter books, he has slipped from 4 to 1, to up in the twenties. Unless he shows much improvement over his disappointing race of last Saturday most will think his chances have gone by.

They're taking the 4 to 1 today on Warren Wright's Nellie Flag, filly, which eased smartly in ahead of Mrs. Fairbanks' Bluebird—Chance Sun, in that order.

Several other colts, which have their names on the eligible list, are some winter books at long odds were behind these three.

Other eligibles to show their wares today are Bluebird, the Miss Way Stable's Whiskolo, Jouett Shouse's Weston, Hal Price Headway, Whopper and Sachsenmaier and Reuter's Roman Soldier.

Roman Soldier went to mile in 1:41 1-5 Monday. Weston took a blowout; he was tabbed at three eights in :35 3-5.

Old Timers Beat Saxon Flippers

Youngsters Are Trounced, 26-14, By Former Cage Stars

The young Saxons "took it" in one sense while the Saxon Old Timers took it the best way and walloped the younger generation, 26 to 14, in a basketball game at the Memorial building the other night.

Sanders, Older and J. Schwartzhoff led a shower of field goals to upset the youngsters. Detweiler was best for the losers.

The Old Timers displayed a sample of cage warfare that was theirs several years ago when they romped through a season undefeated and copped the Saxon crown.

Driver Fails To Identify Suspect

AKRON, April 30—Charles Ross, 27, of Cleveland, reputed former Livavoli gangster, had been released today from Akron jail under $200 bonds.

Burl Villers, Warren mail truck driver, failed to identify him in a police lineup last night as one of three robbers who held him up last week and seized mail bags containing $125,000.

Villers came to Akron with Postal Inspectors H. V. Tavenner and Sergeant Patrick Durkin of Warren police. He said he recognized none of eight men placed before him. When Ross was pointed out to him in particular, Villers replied, "he's not the man." Ross is to appear in municipal court today to answer a suspicious person charge.

GANG SMASHUP SOLVES THEFTS

Dozen Suspects Are Held; $427,000 Robbery May Be Solved

(By Associated Press)
PROVIDENCE, R. I., April 30.—Federal agents and state police, convinced they had solved two daring mail truck robberies and smashed Rhode Island's most notorious gang, held a dozen suspects in jail today and went after more.

They said the roundup might lead to a solution of the $427,000 Brooklyn, N. Y., armored car hold-up, the biggest cash robbery on record.

The mail truck robberies believed solved were those at Fall River, Mass., and Butler, Pa., which netted $179,000.

Convict Questioned
Robert E. DeMarest, a convict, was brought here last night and charged with participation in the Butler holdup.

Howard McGrath, United States attorney, subjected DeMarest to intensive questioning and said later he suspected him of being an accomplice, if not an actual participant, in the Brooklyn robbery.

The roundup extended to New York where three men were held in connection with the investigation. They were listed as Charles Harrigan, 35-year-old truck driver, Thomas Dugan, also a truck driver, and Peter J. De Floria, an auto mechanic.

Another suspect was Carl Rettich, who was brought here after he had surrendered in New York. He was accused of participation in the Fall River robbery.

His chauffeur, Samuel Kaufmann, and Mrs. Ira Steele, wife of a man now in custody, were also brought in by state police. Rettich's father, Emil Rettich, 74, was another held for questioning.

Auto Thief Slain
The developments yesterday followed the week-end investigation which arose with the discovery of the slaying of Andio Merola, Providence auto thief, at Wrentham, Mass.

Merola was one of the chief suspects in the Fall River robbery. Postal inspectors said he had been under surveillance until a few hours of his death.

The inquiry led federal agents and state police to what was apparently a quiet country estate on Warwick Neck—actually a gangster hide-out.

About $9,000, identified as part of the $129,999 stolen in the Fall River holdup, was found Friday in a labyrinth of subcellars. Nearby was stored a gangster's arsenal of machine guns and small arms. Yesterday $10,000 was found buried.

Charred bones also were uncovered, which were described by Lieutenant Ernest Stenhouse of the Rhode Island state police as "looking like human bones." Investigators believed the remains of several missing persons might be found.

Mr. and Mrs. Morris Rubin, arrested Saturday, were held in $25,000 bonds each by a U. S. commissioner, on charges of receiving and concealing money stolen in the Fall River robbery.

"GAS" STATION FEUD IS FATAL

One Man Killed and Five Others Wounded In Texas Shooting

Bryant also charged, officers said, that a station he was preparing to open here had been set afire last Friday night.

Mrs. Bryant was quoted by officers as saying that her husband became enraged when he saw the persons gathered at the station across the road. She said he closed the door of his own station and walked across the highway with the remark: "I'll settle this thing right now."

Nine persons were in the Ferguson station when the buckshot pellets rattled through the windows and the door.

Mrs. Clint Ferguson was shot in the shoulder and the leg; Mrs. H. M. Ferguson, wife of the operator, was wounded in the neck and leg; Mrs. J. J. Hawkins was struck in the head, and her daughter, Mary, 14, was wounded in one leg.

The elder Ferguson, J. J. Hawkins and James Hawkins, 12, dropped to the floor when the firing started and escaped injury.

Robles Kidnaping Is Believed Solved By Federal Agents

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, April 30.—J. Edgar Hoover, justice department investigative chief, said kidnaping of June Robles at Tucson, Ariz., "had been solved."

He refused to amplify the statement beyond explaining that government agents now were presenting evidence before the federal grand jury at Tucson.

Asked if Robles kidnaping was the only one unsolved on the division of investigation's records, Hoover said:

"The Robles kidnaping is solved. We have had 36 kidnapings listed and all of them are solved on our records."

June Robles, 6 years old, was held in a desert pit 19 days before she was recovered by officers and relatives.

MYERS RUMORED AS CANDIDATE

Politicians Profess To See Secretary As Foe of Gov. Davey

Republican sources where belief is general that Myers is preparing to oppose Governor Davey for re-nomination ventured the suggestion that the national administration may be lending the secretary of state encouragement in view of recent differences between the Ohio executive and Washington administration over the matter of handling relief.

Reports have been heard that former Lieut.-Gov. Charles Sawyer of Cincinnati, runner-up in the four-cornered gubernatorial contest last year, may again oppose Governor Davey, but so far Sawyer has given no indication that he is seriously considering it. Neither has former Lieut.-Gov. William G. Pickrel of Dayton, the third candidate in last year's race, shown any indication of again seeking the nomination.

The primary for the nomination of governor and other state candidates and election of delegates to the national conventions is not until the second Tuesday in May, 1936.

Although Attorney General John W. Bricker probably is the most talked of gubernatorial possibility among Republicans, former State Senator Robert A. Taft of Cincinnati and Supreme Court Judge Arthur H. Day, of Cleveland also have been mentioned as possibilities.

CROPS OUTLOOK BEST IN YEARS

Northwest Farm Area Is Jubilant Over Prospect This Summer

(By Associated Press)
ST. PAUL, Minn., April 30.—The man in the field is humming a tune and smiling these days as he guides his plow and sows his grain.

Snow and rain have erased his greatest cause for worry and the entire northwest farm area—the Dakotas and Minnesota—rejoiced with him in the knowledge that this year's seed at least will germinate and get a normal start in the route to maturity.

Crop Reports Optimistic

The district heard with increasing pleasure reports of verdant pastures, sprouting spring-planted crops and green fields of autumn-sown small grain which contrasted sharply with conditions in former years when powder-like soil mingled with clouds in the sky, presaging failure and hardship throughout the region.

State agricultural officials in all three states were optimistic. Minnesota's agronomist said conditions were "ideal," and in North and South Dakota, state agriculture experts viewed prospects as "very good" in the areas which last year suffered the worst crop failure in history.

Paul Kirk, Minnesota agricultural statistician, jubilantly announced he soon would begin re-issuance of crop bulletins which he discontinued more than two years ago because, he said, "people got tired of reading bad news all the time."

Rains Drench Ground

In South Dakota, sprouting small grains and abnormal moisture painted a rosy harvest prospect in contrast to a year ago when the state was parched by drought and seared by hot winds with accompanying dust storms.

Heavy drenching rains which fell slowly, soaking into the thirsty soil, materially changed the crop prospects of eastern North Dakota for the better.

The entire Red River valley long noted for its wheat crops which last year were only "fair" because of dry weather, was thoroughly soaked.
